

Megaspore
Enduring Understanding - A statement(s) that summarizes important ideas or processes that are central to the megaspore and have lasting value.

Units that fall under the megaspore

Unit
Theme - A statement that summarizes the focus of the unit. (PREVIOUS Unit)

Unit
Theme - A statement that summarizes the focus of the unit.

Unit
Theme - A statement that summarizes the focus of the unit. (NEXT Unit)

Break the unit up into substantial chunks that revolve around one essential question.

Essential Question
 A question that:

1. sparks or provokes thought and stimulates student engagement.
2. can be explored, argued and continually revisited.
3. has various answers. Often answers to these questions raise new questions.
4. addresses student misconceptions and relates to the learning targets.

Are questions that DO NOT:

1. have a specific, straightforward, unproblematic answer.
2. prompt factual recall rather than to generate and sustain inquiry.
3. use "not" or pronouns.

Essential Question
 A question that:

1. sparks or provokes thought and stimulates student engagement.
2. can be explored, argued and continually revisited.
3. has various answers. Often answers to these questions raise new questions.
4. addresses student misconceptions and relates to the learning targets.

Are questions that DO NOT:

1. have a specific, straightforward, unproblematic answer.
2. prompt factual recall rather than to generate and sustain inquiry.
3. use "not" or pronouns.

Essential Question
 A question that:

1. sparks or provokes thought and stimulates student engagement.
2. can be explored, argued and continually revisited.
3. has various answers. Often answers to these questions raise new questions.
4. addresses student misconceptions and relates to the learning targets.

Are questions that DO NOT:

1. have a specific, straightforward, unproblematic answer.
2. prompt factual recall rather than to generate and sustain inquiry.
3. use "not" or pronouns.

Sequence of lessons that guides the students to acquiring the evidence and skills necessary to answer the essential question.

